ANTI-DISCRIMINATION AMENDMENT (RELIGIOUS FREEDOMS AND EQUALITY) BILL 2020

SUBMISSION.

NSW Anti-Discrimination Amendment (Religious Freedoms and equality) Bill 2020.

To whom it may concern.

I fail to see how our Religious Freedoms can be lost, considering that they are enshrined in the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Australia under Section 116, and where there is conflict the Commonwealth can over-rule the States by using Section 109. Why do you think you can ignore the Constitution and follow the orders of the United Nations and the New World Order, without risk to your reputation, your place in history and any records that will be kept on this matter.

In fact the U.N. has destroyed more rights of the sovereignty of our own bodies and minds, and that of our country, than any other organization in Australia's history. Globalisation of our minds and beliefs should not be encouraged, but fought against, since we were all created unique and individual beings in the image of God, with freedom to choose between good and evil, unless we allow ourselves to be captured by something else.

It is the obligation of all members of Parliament, and bureaucrats regardless of their position to adhere to the law as set out in our Constitution and laws under Almighty God. Otherwise we are a land without law and the consequences of that will follow, perhaps with rebellion and civil war, to the detriment and risk to everyone, including yourselves and your families.

This country and our system of government was founded on Judaic/Christian foundations and inherited Common Law rights from the United Kingdom. If you want to remove those rights, a Referendum will have to be called as required under Section 128 of our Constitution. Until such time that this happens you have no right to remove freedom of religion, and our right to practice our beliefs, if they are not contrary to the criminal codes of both States and Federal Governments of Australia.

Yours sincerely,

Beverley Linne Pattenden
