MOBILE SPEED CAMERA ENFORCEMENT PROGRAMS IN NSW

Name: Mr Dave Lardner

Date Received: 11 June 2021

Removal of mobile speed camera warning signs does not reduce the road toll. Despite some limited release of information from the secret modelling from Monash University, the road toll is NOT dropping.

Mobile speed cameras do NOT capture the true reality of accident causes - poor roads maintenance of surfaces, road speed markings, road safety signs, drink/drug driving, unlicensed drivers and unregistered vehicles.

Why then are fixed speed camera signs still in place. Removal for mobile speed cameras can only infer one thing - these cameras are a cash cow for our state government revenue, where such monies collected are NOT directed back to road safety where both fixed and mobile speed cameras are located.

Warning signs are actually a deterrent to motorists to break the speed limits.
