MOBILE SPEED CAMERA ENFORCEMENT PROGRAMS IN NSW

Name: Christine Inglese

Date Received: 3 July 2021

I am supporting the reintroduction of warning signs for mobile speed cameras.

I personally have been caught once with signals displayed and I acknowledge I was doing the wrong thing at the time even though it was low range so I paid my fine without argument and learnt a valuable lesson.

The warning signs have always served as moment to remind myself and other drivers on the road to take a moment to check our speed and self regulate our own behaviour. I am fully supportive of these signs being in place as a deterrent as it has often served as a reminder to be safe on the road so that myself and every other person can get home safely to their family.

The removal of the signs has in my opinion taken away the reminder to drivers to be safe, check their speeds and help everyone get home to their families.

If the removal of the signs was truly for community benefit. I fail to see how a discreet fine in the mail serves any purpose for the greater good or safety of the community.

I absolutely want the roads to be safer. I want drivers to be more careful and understand the road rules. I want reckless driving and road rage to be minimised. Has the removal of warning signs reduced any of the above or saved any lives in the road? I would hope reintroducing the signs will assist with the governments goal to have zero lives lost on the road.

Thank you for your time.
