FOOD PRODUCTION AND SUPPLY IN NSW

Name: Dr Irit Alony

Date Received: 28 February 2022

My main concerns relate to the alignment of food produced and its effects on the environment (food production should be local, seasonal, and thus support environmental sustainability) and to be encouraged in micro settings such as local gardens, buildings and rooftops. This requires fundamental changes in public habits and mindset, which are also necessary for the long term survival of us as a species.
