Hi,

We are local residents at Oxford Falls and have first-hand experience of the Hospital. Whilst the staff are good and welcoming, we have found them to be overworked and understaffed. On one occasion there were no nurses available to take blood tests and the doctor who was consulting had to do so himself and had to leave the consulting room to obtain equipment from a store area to continue. he advised the materials were in short supply which suggests a lack of stock and control - surely this is fundamental to a health care service?
