MEASURES TO PROHIBIT SLOGANS THAT INCITE HATRED

Organisation: AASHA Australia Foundation

Date Received: 30 December 2025

AASHA Australia Foundation strongly supports measures to prohibit slogans that incite hatred and threaten community safety. Words are not harmless when they are used to dehumanise, intimidate, or glorify violence.

Such slogans fuel fear, division, and real-world harm, particularly against vulnerable communities.

A democratic society must protect freedom of expression while drawing a clear line at speech that promotes hatred or endangers public safety.

We urge the NSW Parliament to act decisively to uphold social cohesion, protect human dignity, and ensure that public spaces remain safe for all

Freedom of expression must not extend to speech that promotes hatred or violence. AASHA Australia Foundation supports clear legal measures to safeguard public safety and human dignity
