COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE
FAZIO, THE HON. AMANDA RUTH MLC

Decisions/observations of (including Temporary Chairmen) during committee of the whole—

Amendments—

It is not the decision of Parliamentary Counsel whether an amendment is within the scope of a bill. That is a matter for the Chair of Committees to determine (PDp. 78)

The general rule is that once the House resolves itself into Committee no further amendments are accepted (PDp. 2641)

Debate, rules of—

Members may not canvass a ruling of the Chair (PDp. 3004)

Members should not engage in conversation with one another across the Chamber (PDp. 4736)

Members must speak so that responses are audible (PDp. 1483)

Members should direct comments to the Chair, not to the Minister (PDp. 4750)

Divisions—

A member must be on the desired side of the Chamber prior to the appointment of tellers for their vote to be counted (PDp. 3004)

Instruction to committee—

If the House has agreed to an instruction motion the Committee is obliged to consider the matter and does not have the capacity to overturn that instruction. (PDp 742)

Interjections—

Interjections are disorderly at all times (PDpp. 3696, 4750)

Relevancy—

Members should confine their comments to the substance of the bill being debated. (PDp. 1483)

Remarks should be confined to the amendments before the Chair (PDp. 4750)

A member must be able to directly relate their contribution in debate to the amendments before the Chair. (PDp. 3372)

It is reasonable to draw on examples to show why an amendment should be supported. However, members must not go into the level of detail that would be appropriate in either a second reading speech or in debate on a private member's motion. (PDp. 4566)

Reflections—

On votes of the House—

If the House has agreed to an instruction motion the Committee it is not appropriate to canvass or attempt to change that resolution. (PDp. 742)

On Members—

It is in order for a member to ask for a withdrawal if they find a term offensive. However, another member may not seek a withdrawal on their behalf (PDp. 4736)

 - Forsythe, the Honourable Patricia—216
- Rulings and observations of, (including Deputy President)—
 - Adjournment—
 - Members may speak on more than one subject on the adjournment debate (PDp. 147)
 - Anticipation—
 - Under the rule of anticipation a Minister must not debate a subject that is likely to be brought before the House in the foreseeable future. Given that the committee report is not going to be discussed in this Parliament in the foreseeable future, the Minister is not contravening the rule of anticipation (PDp. 4709)
 - Debate—Rules of—
 - It is a convention of this House that members refrain from using acronyms (PDp. 375)
 - A member must be on the floor of the Chamber to be entitled to make an objection (PDp. 4413)
 - Members should address their comments to the Chair, use the microphone when given the call and not mumble. (PDp. 1456)
 - Members must not direct comments to one another across the floor of the House (PDp. 2313)
 - Members who wish to speak must stand in their place and seek the call (PDp. 372)
 - Unless an amendment relates to the timing of the motion to give urgency to a matter, it should not be referred to in the debate on urgency. Remarks must be confined to urgency. (PDp. 1213)
 - The member must not read lengthy extracts (PDp. 2783, 3939, 3952)
 - Members, conduct of—
 - Members must not read newspapers in the House (PDp. 683)
 - The reading of photocopies of documents that are the subject of debate is not disorderly (PDp. 1221)
 - Notice of motions—
 - The standing orders allow members to simply state what their notice of motion is about. However, if members wish a notice of motion to be read in full, it will be read in full (PDp. 1077)
 - Offensive words and unparliamentary expressions—
 - To suggest that members of a political party are usually at the bar is offensive and should be withdrawn (PDp. 686)
 - Members may refer to the policies or strategies of other members as fruitcakes, but they must not refer to the members themselves as fruitcakes (PDp. 2157)
 - Papers—
 - There is nothing in standing order 56 that determines the time a document ordered to be tabled must be tabled. The House does not have the power to determine the timing of the tabling of the document under the standing orders (PDp. 1617)
 - The Chair has no responsibility to judge the accuracy or correctness of a document tabled (PDp. 1620)
 - Petitions—
 - There is no requirement that a petition be submitted to the Clerks before it is presented to Parliament. However, submitting a petition to the Clerks will ensure that the petition is in order. Members may vote against a petition if they are of the opinion that it has not been presented in a suitable form (PDp. 3507)
 - Points of order—
 - When a point of order is taken on a point of order, the second point of order is decided first (PDp. 887)
 - When a point of order is being taken all members except the member taking the point of order must resume their seats (PDp. 2154)

- An allegation of misrepresentation cannot be the basis for a point of order (PDp. 687, 3314)
- President—
- Members may not canvass a ruling of the President (PDp. 3709)
 - The only person in the Chamber able to direct members what to do is the Chair (PDp. 2595)
- Questions and Answers—
- Answers—
- A Minister may make general comments when answering the question, but his answer must be relevant to the question asked (PDpp. 891, 1220, 3315)
 - The Minister cannot provide an answer to a question that has been ruled out of order (PDp. 2177)
- Content of questions—
- A question is in order if it refers to what might have happened but for a decision of the House as long as it does not reflect on a decision of the House (PDp. 3155)
- Supplementary Questions—
- A supplementary question must seek clarification of the previous answer and must not contain new material (PDpp. 3525, 3709)
 - If a Minister does not answer a question, a member cannot ask a question to elucidate the answer (PDp. 2169)
 - When a Minister says that he or she will take a question on notice no elucidation of the answer is possible (PDp. 4130)
- Reflections—
- A member may not reflect on any resolution or vote of the House, unless moving for its rescission (PDpp. 2151, 3024)
 - Members who wish to make charges against any member of either House must do so by way of a substantive motion (PDpp. 1079, 2151, 3146)
