277. The NSW Council of Social Service 2017 Cost of Living survey showed that in order to pay their energy bills, 19% of children living in low-income households are going without food, and 33% of low-income households are going without medical treatment.
- (a) How will the Government provide proactive, practical support to reduce the cost of vital energy to low-income and disadvantaged households?
278. The above-mentioned report also found that people in Far Western and Central Western NSW reported average annual bills nearly double the state-wide average of $1532.
- (a) How is the Government going to respond to the inequity in provision of this essential utility?

Questions from Mr Jeremy Buckingham MLC

Questions concerning Narrabri Underground Coal Mine (Approval 08_0144)

279. Is gas pre-drainage being conducted strictly in accordance with the Gas Drainage Plan (their Fig.2.10) and description included in the Narrabri Coal Mine Environmental Assessment (Section 2-56 to 2-58), and if not, by what degree do the current operations exceed the original plan?
280. Is the goaf gas drainage being conducted strictly in accordance with the Gas Drainage Plan and description included in the Narrabri Coal Mine Environmental Assessment (Section 2-58 to 2-59), and if not, by what degree do the current operations exceed the original plan?
281. Aerial surveillance identifies that both gas pre-drainage (ie 3 sets per longwall) and goaf gas drainage (ie 200m intervals along each longwall) infrastructure exceeds what was proposed in the Environmental Assessment in the Gas Drainage Plan attached. What approvals, if any, have been given by the Department of Resources and Energy for this increase in gas drainage infrastructure?
282. As noted in Section 2.4.5.3.1 of the Environmental Assessment, it was considered likely that once underground mining progressed beyond Longwall 2 or Longwall 3, gate road development would be sufficiently advanced ahead of longwall mining to enable conventional underground in-seam pre-drainage to be undertaken rather than the more environmentally destructive surface-to-in-seam pre-drainage. Given that the mine has now advanced far beyond LW3, why is Narrabri Underground mine continuing to adopt the environmentally destructive surface-to-in-seam pre-drainage method?

283. Does this increase in gas drainage infrastructure show that the original estimates of gas emissions were inaccurate,
- (a) In overall quantity of gas emitted?
 - (b) In the proportions of methane and carbon dioxide present?
 - (c) Are the emissions of carbon dioxide and methane being reduced to sufficiently low concentrations to ensure safe working conditions underground?

Questions on Energy & Mining

284. Many in the renewable energy sector are concerned that once the projects being built to fulfil the Commonwealth Renewable Energy Target are finished that we will see investment in renewable energy drop off a cliff.
- (a) Does the government share that concern?
 - (b) Will you follow Victoria and Queensland with state-based renewable energy targets?
285. What is the uptake of energy storage in NSW, both at a consumer level and a utility level?
- (a) Is the government planning any policies or programs to encourage the uptake of energy storage technology?
286. Electric vehicles are starting to take off in other countries. Is the government doing any modelling about the electrification of the transport sector and what that may mean for electricity demand and overall emissions?
287. Does your department have any forecasts for the take up of electric vehicles?
288. The Queensland Government has its Queensland Electric Super Highway project where ‘fast chargers will be installed in convenient, safe locations close to major highways where there are existing amenities such as cafes, restaurants and shops.’ They are cooperating with the ACAPMA in rolling out this project. Does NSW have a similar project? Has the government been approached by ACAPMA for such a project?
289. The recent COAG Energy Council meeting agreed to progress the Integrated System Plan? Does the Integrated System Plan foresee a greater penetration of renewable energy than is modelled under the National Energy Guarantee?
290. Does the NSW government support projects such as an interconnector between South Australia and NSW to support reliability and flexibility in the grid and allow a greater penetration of renewable energy within the National Electricity Market?

291. Does the NSW government support additional interconnectors with Victoria and Queensland?
292. Are there any ongoing negotiations over the future of the Shenhua Watermark project?
293. How will the proposed Port Kembla gas import terminal impact on the NSW gas market and the viability of the Narrabri coal seam gas project?
294. How many more years can NSW export coal before we blow our portion of the carbon budget that leads to over 2 degrees of climate change?
295. How many more years will NSW mine and export coal?
296. Is the NSW government still funding “clean coal”?
 - (a) If so how much?
