   (b) How much money did DPI get to be the lead agency under the RFS Act 2019 and where was it spent?
      i. Do you think the RFS Act 2016 has been an effective tool in educating rockfishers on safety issues in NSW?
      ii. whilst DPI had carriage of the RFS Act 2016 how many lives were saved with “Approved” lifejackets
      iii. How did you validate this and can you produce the evidence?

      ● Two rock fishing safety videos developed and promoted by DPI through various media channels. Eight shorter clips from the two main videos were also promoted covering individual rock fishing safety tips.
- Production and distribution of a "Fish Safe Off The Rocks" DL flyer. This was translated into Traditional and Simplified Chinese, Vietnamese, Arabic and Korean.

How Safe Is Our Seafood To Eat
9. Excluding the recent PFAS debacle, shellfish and Sydney Harbour what guarantees can DPI give recreational fishers, commercial fishers and the seafood consumers who live and fish in NSW that the fish we eat are safe to eat?

ANSWER:
Those food businesses which retail fresh seafood are subject to routine food safety inspections conducted by local councils under the food regulation partnership (FRP) between councils and the Food Authority. Further information on the FRP is available on the Department’s website (http://www.foodauthority.nsw.gov.au/rp/food-regulation-partnership). Historical testing of fish has been used to provide guidance for consumers on limiting the amount of various fish species that people should consume to ensure they are not exposed to excessive levels of mercury. This guidance can be found on the Food Standards Australian New Zealand website (https://www.foodstandards.gov.au/consumer/chemicals/mercury/documents/mf%20brochure.pdf). The Food Authority also provides guidance for consumers on two very rare forms of food poisoning. One is caused by eating finfish that have accumulated ciguatera poison as this toxin moves up the food chain. Guidance on this can be found on the Department’s website (http://www.foodauthority.nsw.gov.au/rp/fish-ciguatera-poisoning). The other is caused by eating... fish containing elevated levels of histamine (known as histamine fish poisoning or Scombroid poisoning).

The national residue survey (NRS) is a Commonwealth program that monitors levels and risks associated with pesticides and veterinary medicine residues in Australian food products. The NRS has included a seafood program since the early 1990s and involves testing Australian aquaculture and wild-caught seafood products for a range of pesticides, veterinary medicines and environmental contaminants. The Commonwealth Department of Agriculture website lists the following key points in relation to the seafood program:

- In 2017–18, the overall compliance rate against Australian standards was 100 percent for both aquaculture and wild-caught samples.
- Australian seafood producers continue to demonstrate a high degree of good catching, growing and processing practice.

10. What level of testing is being done to our fish stocks around the sewage outfalls including offshore, nearshore and estuary based, storm water drains and estuaries to ensure they have a clean bill of health?
   (a) Can DPI tell us what level of testing is being done in places like the Hunter River and Lake Illawarra and are the fish safe to eat there?

ANSWER:
The Food Authority does not undertake testing of fish stocks around outfalls. However, the Food Authority does assess the risk of outfalls for commercial shellfish harvest areas. Assessments cover sewage, stormwater and other potential pollution sources, and include desktop assessment, field assessment and verification monitoring programs for microbiological, heavy metal and chemical contaminants. Assessments are reviewed annually. Further information is available on the Department’s website (http://www.foodauthority.nsw.gov.au/_Documents/industry/classification_of_shellfish_harvest_areas.pdf). Alsolease refer to the response to 9.

DPI has not undertaken any testing of fish stocks in the Hunter River or Lake Illawarra.

   (b) Is it acceptable that emails remain unanswered from Commercial Mangers and GIPAs are being submitted to get information that has major impacts on recreational and commercial anglers in NSW and not to mention the smaller coastal towns that will be impacted?
   (c) The proposed transition to the Commonwealth seems to be an internal agreement between NSW and Commonwealth Fisheries to force NSW to give up its Offshore Constitutional Rights. Was this issue discussed at the Ministers Advisory Council’s and if so what was their position?
(d) Where there any other stakeholders advised or consulted about the proposed transition? If not why not? If yes who were they and what was their view/response
(e) Were local councils consulted? If yes which councils and what was their replies? If no why not?

ANSWER:

The NSW Government is currently considering the proposed transition of the NSW Southern Fish Trawl (SFT) Restricted Fishery to Commonwealth management.

(b) Any concerns should be raised directly with the Department or my Office.
(c) Transition of the SFT does not give up constitutional rights.
(d) Public consultation on transitioning the NSW Southern Fish Trawl Restricted Fishery to Commonwealth management occurred in 2018. All stakeholders including local councils, small businesses, tackle store providers, boating businesses and bait providers were able to lodge submissions during this process. Submissions received are available on the NSW Department of Primary Industries website.

   ANSWER:
   (a) The first meeting of the Walgett study participants occurred on 29 November 2017.
   (b) The study sought to evaluate the economic, social and environmental outcomes of the reforms
The study was undertaken by independent consultants and involved an analysis of the economic, social and environmental outcomes of applying:

- the Land Management (Native Vegetation) Code 2018.
- Division 6 of Part 5A of the Local Land Services Act 2013 (Native Vegetation Panel approval pathway), using the Biodiversity Assessment Method.

The study was not a trial for a new Code. It was to see how the existing Code achieves its goals on a variety of properties.

Landholders participated in the study on the condition that it was confidential. Releasing the names of landholders that participated in the study would therefore be prejudicial to privacy and may breach commercial confidentiality.

- How many investigations under the old Native Vegetation Act 2003 had commenced before the deadline of 31 August 2019?
- How many investigations have been discontinued as a result of finding that the activities would not have breached the new Biodiversity Conservation Act 2016.

Review of Land Clearing Codes under the Biodiversity Conservation Act 2016

29. Regarding this testimony given by Mr Witherdin in the hearings on 10 September 2019

Mr JUSTIN FIELD: Is there a trigger at all in any of the regulations or in Government policy to actually say, "Hang on, we have gone well above what we anticipated. We have to have a look more quickly at the codes."

Mr WITHERDIN: My understanding was that there is a nominal trigger of about 20,000 hectares per annum, yes.

Mr JUSTIN FIELD: We have passed that, though. What did that trigger?

Mr WITHERDIN: What did that trigger?

Mr JUSTIN FIELD: Yes.

Mr WITHERDIN: It has triggered a review.

Mr JUSTIN FIELD: That review is happening because of that passing of that trigger, is that what you are saying?

Mr WITHERDIN: That is my understanding, yes.

Mr JUSTIN FIELD: What is the status of that review? I was not aware of it, sorry.

Mr WITHERDIN: The review has been completed.

Mr JUSTIN FIELD: The review has been completed since the data was published about the 27,100 hectares of clearing in 2017-2018? Is that what you are saying?

Mr WITHERDIN: Yes.

(a) Was the trigger for this review 20,000 hectares?
(b) Where is this trigger published (ie. is it a statutory trigger or an internal working figure?)
(c) How was this trigger was determined?
(d) When was the trigger passed?
(e) When was this review initiated?
(f) Was the review considered a statutory review as required by the Biodiversity Conservation Act 2016 and/or the Local Land Services Act 2013?
(g) What were the terms of reference for the review?
(h) Who conducted the review?
(i) Was there a public call for submissions to the review?
   i. If not, why not?
(j) Has the review been finalised?
   i. If yes, what have been the findings of the review?
   ii. Are those findings public?
(k) When is a statutory review next required by the Biodiversity Conservation Act 2016 and the Local Land Services Act 2013?
These questions should be directed to the Premier or the Minister for the Environment.

Research into impacts of new land clearing laws

30. Has the Department of Primary Industries commissioned any research to assess the impact on farm production or natural resources sustainability or drought impact and recovery as a result of the changes in the Biodiversity Conservation Act 2016 and/or the Local Land Services Act 2013?

ANSWER:

No. DPI is not responsible for administering either of these Acts.

Auditor General’s ‘Managing Native vegetation’ report

31. What is the Government doing to implement the findings of the Auditor General’s ‘Managing Native vegetation’ report dated 27 June 2019 as it relates to recommendations 1-4 specific to Local Land Services (page 6)?

(a) Will each of the recommendations be implemented by Local Land Services in full and on time? If not, why not?

ANSWER:

The Government’s response is included in the final report available online.

Land Clearing – Public Information Register

32. Based on information in the Local Land Services Public Information Register for land clearing applications between March 2018 and August 2019:

(a) How much native vegetation has been cleared to date?

(b) How much native vegetation has been given approval for future clearing? Please include the timeframe in which this clearing is expected to take place.

ANSWER:

(a) Local Land Services (LLS) records data on areas of land authorised for the treatment of native vegetation under the Land Management (Native Vegetation) Code 2018 (the Code). However, these authorisations do not equate to the total area of land from which vegetation has actually been treated. The Environment, Energy and Science Division (EES) of the Department of Planning, Industry and Environment monitors changes to vegetation. LLS does not record actual land cleared within an authorised area.

(b) From 1 March 2018 to 31 August 2019, areas authorised for the treatment of native vegetation under the Land Management (Native Vegetation) Code 2018 (the Code) totalled:

- 49,905 ha authorised for treatment under the non-Invasive Native Species (INS) parts of the Code;
- 242,302 ha authorised for treatment under the INS parts of the Code.

Authorisations to treat native vegetation under the Code are valid for a period of 15 years from date issued. Landholders are able to treat native vegetation as per the relevant authorisation at any time during this 15 year period.

Biosecurity officers

33. For each local government area, please list how many local government staff are currently 'authorised officers' under the Biosecurity Act 2015?
There are 112 local control authorities (weeds) in New South Wales - this incorporates local councils, weed authorities and county councils who undertake weed control activities with a total of 212 authorised officers.

34. What is the Government doing to increase the number of ‘authorised officers’ in local government?

ANSWER:
The NSW Weeds Action Program provides funding for the employment and training of Local Government Biosecurity Weed Officers. NSW DPI have established an Australian Qualification Framework recognised career pathway for Biosecurity Weed Officers which includes Biosecurity Act components.

Feral deer
35. Under the Regional Strategic Pest Animal Management Plans developed for each of the local land service regions, what funding has been allocated to achieve deer containment and eradication targets?
   (a) Please provide a breakdown of funding under each Local Land Service Regions.

ANSWER:
Direct investment allocated by Local Land Services for deer control is in line with Regional Strategic Pest Animal Management Plans.

36. Besides the announcement made on 23 August 2019 to bring in new regulations to enable landowners to control deer numbers, what other steps is the Government taking to control feral deer numbers?

ANSWER:
DPI, LLS and the National Parks and Wildlife Services (NPWS) are involved in a large range of projects to understand and control feral deer in NSW. Research projects through the Centre for Invasive Species Solutions’ national research program include:

- A project led by DPI to evaluate the costs and efficacy of various control tools, supported by population modelling to assess longer-term impacts of control on deer populations.
- A project which aims to provide pest managers with alternative strategies for managing wild dogs and deer in peri-urban areas of eastern Australia.

The NSW Environmental Trust has funded a $9.21 million proof-of-concept project, in which NPWS will work with LLS and private landholders to conduct applied research on feral deer in NSW. They will develop and trial cost-effective, humane and coordinated control techniques to complement existing control methods in south-eastern Kosciuszko National Park and adjoining landholder properties.

NSW Biosecurity Advisory Committee
37. When does the Government expect to complete the review of the NSW Biosecurity Advisory Committee?

ANSWER:
The NSW Biosecurity Advisory Committee was established to support the commencement of the Biosecurity Act 2015 on 1 July 2017 and deliver the State of Biosecurity Report in March 2018. The Committee expired on 30 June 2018, having successfully fulfilled its functions.

38. Was the Department of Primary Industries consulted with regards to the suspension of provisions of the Greater Metropolitan Region Unregulated River Water Sharing Plan relating to water transfers from the Shoalhaven before the decision was taken by the NSW Water Minister on 27 August 2019?

ANSWER:
The rules under which the transfer was made were originally developed by the Metropolitan Regional Panel, of which DPI is a member. Note that the rules are set out in the Water Sharing Plan for the Greater Metropolitan Region Unregulated River Water Sources.

39. Has the Department of Primary Industries received any communication/complaints from Oyster growers in the Shoalhaven relating to water quality issues in the Shoalhaven since January 2018? If so, what has been the nature of these communications?

ANSWER:
DPI has been contacted by oyster growers in the Shoalhaven regarding a number of matters, including livestock access to the river, sewage spills, freshwater inflows and housing development.

GIPA Questions to the CEOs/ Department Secretaries
239. Since March 30, how many formal GIPAs have your cluster/ department received?

ANSWER:
Note: The current Department of Planning, Industry and Environment (DPIE) did not exist until 1 July 2019. Prior to this, the primary agencies which now make up DPIE were:
   ● The Department of Planning and Environment (DPE)
- The Office of Environment and Heritage (OEH)
- The Department of Industry (DOI)
- The Office of Local Government (OLG)

Some other business units which now make up DPIE were part of other clusters prior to 1 July, and some parts of the previous agencies no longer form part of DPIE. For example:
- Heritage is now part of the Department of Premier and Cabinet
- The State Archives and Records Authority is now part of Premier and Cabinet
- Property NSW was previously part of the Department of Finance, Services and Innovation
- The Land and Housing Corporation was previously part of Family and Community Services.

DPIE’s response to the questions taken on notice are therefore split into two categories:
1. 30 March to 30 June 2019, and
2. 1 July to 11 September 2019

The first category will include figures for DPE, OEH, DOI and OLG only, and separately. The second category will provide a single figure for the current DPIE cluster.

Note: Where there are discrepancies between the number received and the number of outcomes, it will be because of one of the following:
- Transferred to another agency
- Withdrawn by the applicant
- Not yet finalised
- Information not held
- Refuse to deal (see section 60 of the GIPA Act for the reasons an agency can refuse to deal with an application)

241. Out of the GIPA where partial information or no information was granted, how many have decided to appeal?

(a) Out of those who have decided to appeal, how many have decided to use:
   i. The agency’s internal appeals’ mechanism?
   ii. Review by the Information Commissioner?
   iii. Review by NCAT?

(b) How many of those GIPAs have been overturned on appeal?
   i. Internal appeals’ mechanism?
   ii. Review of the Information Commissioner?
   iii. Review by NCAT?

ANSWER:

30 March to 11 September 2019 = 15

Note 1: Whilst there is no formal ‘appeal’ function under GIPA, applicants and third parties consulted during the processing of an application can request a decision be reviewed by the NSW CAT.

Requests for review by third parties are because that party has objected to release but the agency has decided to release despite their objections. A third-party application for review is therefore usually because they want information to be withheld.

The figures are therefore given for reviews requested by the original applicant, as these are more likely in the nature of an ‘appeal’ against access to information being declined.

Note 2: The figures are given as consolidated figures for the full period of 30 March 2019 to 11 September 2019.

Decisions are not ‘overturned’ by internal review the original decision is varied. The Information Commissioner cannot vary a decision, only make recommendations to the agency to review a decision.

242. GIPAs that have been granted full or partial access, how many appear on the agency’s disclosure log?

(a) What is the rationale for not putting GIPAs on the agency’s disclosure log (excluding GIPAs asking for personal information)?

ANSWER:

DPIE is in the process of consolidating disclosure logs for the agencies that now form DPIE, creating a single disclosure log. DPIE did not exist prior to 1 July 2019, and decisions in relation to applications to DPIE will not be posted to the disclosure log until the review period has expired (40 working days after decision). The disclosure logs with decisions of agencies made between 1 April to 30 June 2019, where information maybe of interest to members of the public, are being updated as the review period for those decisions expires. Websites are currently being updated and decisions made, which are appropriate for the disclosure log, will be posted in due course.

Note: decisions to release information will not be put on the disclosure log while a third party has a right to request review of an agency’s decision to release. This would be a minimum of 40 working days from the date of the decision, and longer if review rights are activated.

a) What is the rationale for not putting GIPAs on the agency’s disclosure log (excluding GIPAs asking for personal information)?

The GIPA Act does not require all applications to be placed on a disclosure log, only those matters which the agency deems is likely to be of interest to other members of the public.

243. Has any GIPAs that appeared on the agency’s disclosure log been taken down?

(a) For what reason/s?

ANSWER:

No.
