

Supplementary question

1. Please provide as much information as possible regarding the NSW Government's intentions for the Clean Air Strategy expected to be released in early 2021, including for example:
 - aims
 - agencies involved
 - parameters
 - outcomes
 - the process by which it is being developed.

Answer

A Clean Air Strategy will be released in early 2021 following consultation on a draft strategy in late 2020. Development of the strategy will consider relevant findings from the government inquiries into the 2019-20 bushfire season.

The Department of Planning, Industry and Environment will be working with NSW Health, Transport for NSW and the Department of Regional NSW to develop the strategy.

It is expected the strategy will include NSW Government regulatory, monitoring, research and communication actions to improve air quality and reduce the health impacts of poor air quality throughout urban and regional NSW.

The strategy will also outline the air quality benefits anticipated from related government policies, such as the Net Zero Plan Stage 1: 2020-2030 and the NSW Electricity Strategy, as well as relevant transport and land use planning initiatives.
