

Tumbulgum Public School flood recovery survey

School Infrastructure NSW has started planning to rebuild Tumbulgum Public School on its existing site.

We know how important Tumbulgum Public School is, not only to you and your family but the local community.

To help us understand the school's history and significance in the area, we're keen to find out from you what makes it such a special place of learning.

1. Buildings are important but so is the school's heritage. If possible, what would you like to see saved, repaired or salvaged and why?
