We should be building ferries that actually work while also creating jobs right here in NSW. And that's exactly what a government I lead would do.

The best ferries in the world, the best ferries in the world (and ones that work). So that's exactly what we'll deliver - creating real paid Aussie jobs of the future.

Trams, ferries, trams and buses - we should be building them all here.

If we're elected, the days of offshoring and failed transport projects are over - for good!

We'll set minimum local content requirements, tender weightings and create manufacturing centres of excellence.

All while building the next set of Tangara's right here in NSW.

BUILD IT HERE

I BELIEVE IN A NSW THAT MAKES THINGS.

Almost everyone has caught a Tangara - and Labor will build a brand new fleet of them right here. Giving us public transport that actually works. And creating at least 1,000 good, long term Aussie jobs. This is the power of Labor Governments.

Over 10 yrs ago, these NSW built trams entered service - commissioned by Neville Wran, they're built to last. We can and we should build things here in NSW again. And a government I lead will do just that.

Our state gets goods at making things, we're great at it. That's why a NSW Labor Government will build things - like the train behind me - here again. All mean jobs in manufacturing and jobs in maintenance all across the state.

This bus behind me is the future - zero emissions and built right here in NSW for NSW. This is exactly what a government I lead will be investing in. Outfitting edge engineering supporting Aussie jobs like the ones being filled by this worker I met... See more.

We don't just want to build things here - we have a plan to get it done. Over the last decade under the Liberals, NSW has lost 42,000 manufacturing jobs. Meanwhile, Queensland gained 6000. We'll turn that around.
