The NEW TEAM WHO HAS TAKEN OVER SYDNEY INTERNATIONAL SPEEDWAY

Sydney International Speedway Pty Ltd (SIS) has been appointed the new venue operator for the Sydney International Speedway and has the determination to ensure the world class venue lives up to its expectations.

SIS has appointed Garry Willmington, former manager of Wakefield Park Raceway and original founder of the Marulan Driver Training Centre (now Pheasant Wood Circuit) to operate the venue and will work with all divisions to secure the best outcome for all.

An independent reviewer inspected Western Sydney International Speedway on 21 September 2023 and signed off on recent works confirming the facility is ready for racing. The new team are working with the NSW Government to make Eastern Creek the number one motorsports precinct in Australia.

The first practice night is expected to be held next month with racing dates to be announced shortly.

Race Fans. Share this around. Tell your friends. We are back on track soon. It is happening. We are aiming for a couple of practice nights before first race meeting.

Will keep you all updated here.
