

ICC procurement policy/wording around its buy local targets.

“Where the Operator has identified an operational need to outsource supply, local suppliers will be drawn upon in the first instance prior to considering potential providers within extended regional boundaries, national or international markets. Where practicable, the Operator will maximise the use of local sources of supply, where they compete both commercially and technically with non-local products. This will achieve economic benefits associated with shorter supply chains and will strengthen the capacity of local suppliers for future opportunities in Sydney and Australia.”
