

David Elliott is at Parliament of NSW.

Today I hosted an International Women's Day luncheon for IPWEA NSW & ACT at Parliament House where nearly 100 women from the construction industry got to hear from the Minister for Regional Roads and Transport, The Honourable Jenny Aitchison. I first met Jenny 10 years ago when as the freshly appointed Emergency Services Minister I toured her electorate when it was facing some of the toughest flooding in a generation. On that first occasion I had to deal with a very upset Jenny. Today I shared the stage with a very funny Jenny, who kept us all entertained with her stories about being a woman in leadership roles. I much prefer funny Jenny!
