MACQUARIE PARK EDUCATION CAMPUS SCHOOL UPDATE

Hi fam, many of you have written to me about the long promised new primary and high school at Lachlan's Line in Macquarie Park. Today, I'm able to share an update with you that I recently received from the NSW Government.

The Macquarie Park Education Campus will include a new primary school, as well as an integrated public preschool and a new high school located at Lachlan's Line, North Ryde. The campus facilities will include:

- indoor and outdoor sports courts and play spaces
- general and specialist classrooms
- multipurpose hall space
- canteen
- administration facilities.

The Department of Education has finalised the acquisition of land for the new schools at Lachlan's Line from Landcom and project specialists and a design team have been appointed to develop the designs for the new schools.

You will recall, plans were originally released by the Liberals to include commercial shops and residential apartments co-located with the school. This wasn't too well recieved by locals, and my understanding is that Minns Government promised to build a traditional school only model, hence new designs needed to be developed.

At the last state budget, funds were allocated to the project so that it could proceed.

Works in the coming week include development and validation of masterplan options which will be followed by commencement of the concept designphase.

Due diligence works on the site will also be underway over the coming months, such as geotechnical and contamination investigations. These investigations will inform the design and project assumptions.
