Dear Shu-fang,

Herewith my response to the additional question.

I rarely examine animals held at Waterways Wildlife Park under the licence to exhibit. I do see more animals that are sick or injured & are held under a different licence. This year I have examined a lizard & a red kangaroo, the reports of both are, I believe, held by the committee. I have also inspected the dingoes & have given suggestions as to structural changes to the yards that would facilitate close examination & treatment of the skin condition that has not responded satisfactorily to the treatments already given. As yet, that report has only been verbal.

Yours Sincerely,
