

"I am advised that The Universities of Sydney, New South Wales, Newcastle/ New England, Western Sydney, Wollongong and Notre Dame all have "medical schools" and partnered arrangements with rural clinical schools and departments of rural health. I note that 2 of these 6 universities are located outside the Sydney metropolitan area. The partnering rural clinical schools and departments of rural health are located at Broken Hill, Dubbo Orange, Lismore, Wollongong, Wagga Wagga, Albury, Port Macquarie, Coffs Harbour, Tamworth, Bathurst, Lismore, Shoalhaven, Lithgow, Wagga Wagga. The Minister for Health can answer any additional questions that he has on Friday."
