

INQUIRY INTO SAME SEX MARRIAGE LAW IN NSW

Name: Mr Michael Robinson

Date received: 30/01/2013

My name is Michael Robinson, I come from a 'normal' family and lead a typically 'normal' life. I am currently studying at University and am working a full time job. I am also in a committed same sex relationship. I have the support from everyone I know and live an extremely happy life. My peers and myself are stunned that we live in such a beautiful country but same sex marriage is something that still has not been legalized. I was born in NSW and would be beyond proud if it led the country in passing this bill and legalizing same sex marriage. Same sex marriage is not just about the piece of paper, it is about equality for all committed relationships. It is only a matter of time before Australia moves in favor of same sex marriage, and does not allow religion to dictate equality for all.
