Dear Inquiry Members,

I feel very strongly that political donations are undermining the democratic process in NSW. If political parties don't support this point of view then they are supporting corruption and ultimately, tyranny. While this may be to their advantage in the short term it will engender disillusionment and apathy in the medium term and probably violence in the long term. In State politics disillusionment has set in so before it gets worse please limit the way in which individuals and organizations deliver money and favours to politicians and political parties. I want to see government of the people by the people for the people not government of the poor by the influential for the wealthy.

Regards

Fergus Fricke
