

Submission
No 17

INQUIRY INTO SAME SEX MARRIAGE LAW IN NSW

Name: Name suppressed

Date received: 30/01/2013

Partially Confidential

As a bisexual woman living with my partner, I hope one day I can marry her. The thought that I cannot do that merely because we are both women astounds me. Neither of us is religious (she is an atheist, I am undecided) so the point of a religious marriage is moot to us. All we want to do is get married, buy a house and raise a family together. We cannot do that because it's 'wrong'. You know what's wrong? The country we both love and live in telling us we are a mistake. That is what's wrong. Yes to same-sex marriage!