Food can be produced on unpolluted land for thousands of years. CSG will only last approx 25 years.

Overseas CSG mining has been banned because of risks to water.

Food and water security is paramount in UN thinking, why not in NSW?

Self regulation does not work.

Money spent on CSG could easily be spent on speeding up the efficiency of renewable energy, which has NO damage to our water.

I wonder what will be left for my grandchildren, let alone the many generations to follow them.

One of the most short sighted activities ever
