INQUIRY INTO GENTRADER TRANSACTIONS

Name: Ms Annissa Kall

Date received: 9/01/2011

Dear Sir/ Madam,

I would like to enter a submission into the Gentrader enquiry being held in New South Wales Parliament. I tried to lodge a submission directly but there was a problem with the security certificate and navigation was blocked. I believe I have a vested interest in the power sell off as my husband currently works for Hydro Aluminium at Kurri Kurri and is being held to ransom by Mr Roozendaal and Ms Keneally. Mr Roozendaals interfering in the Hydro / Delta power deal has brought great anguish to myself and thousands of other families who are now holding their breath on the outcome. I don't believe Mr Roozendaal had any right to put a stop to this contract, considering that he was the one that gave instruction for Hydro and Delta to reach their own agreement in the first place. I wouldn't think it would be legal to interfere in a private transaction between two companies when you have your own hidden agenda. The power sell off was hidden under the guise of state energy reform which has rail roaded many voters who have no idea what is really at stake. I have many friends and family who were shocked to find out about the sell off, something I only found out about completely by accident when I stumbled across the Questions without notice on the parliamentary website. The voters of NSW have been un informed about the true nature of this sell off many still not knowing that this is going ahead and not understanding the full ramifications. We will undoubtedly be left with more price rises, something that will tip many families over the edge and the flow on effect could be detrimental to the states economy. Higher unemployment, and housing affordability will be affected as well because money used for mortgages will have to be paid to cash grabbing overseas companies. This sell off has been thrown out many times before because it is not something that voters of NSW want and yet this government has tried to sneak a midnight deal through to fix years of bad governing. Why is this government in such a state of disarray? Labour government has been taking money for years from voters and putting us into deficit and now want to make matters worse by selling our assets for a pittance to try and make themselves look good at election time. The electricity infrastructure has been let run down for many years while the money was squandered and now this is being used as an excuse for power price rises. I urge you as a voter in this state, do not let them sell off these assets as once this deal is done there is no turning back. The people of this state deserve a break for a change instead of another sting in the hip pocket.

Yours Sincerely,
Annissa Kall.
