

THE TRANSPORT NEEDS OF SYDNEY'S NORTH-WEST SECTOR

We have an urgent need for public transport in the north west area. Patricularly, a fast train service is what is needed. The area is growing each year and at present all households must rely on cars. We also have the added expense of tollways, for which we have no other option. It is clearly unfair to have a large area of Sydney forced to using tollways when there is no other option (such as a train line) to move around Sydney. The bus services are not adequate.
