INQUIRY INTO GREYHOUND RACING IN NSW

Name: Ms Saxon Naulls-Johnstone

Date received: 5/11/2013

Dear Director,

My name is Saxon Naulls-Johnstone. 6 years ago my dog's life was saved by a blood transfusion from a greyhound. That experience led me to become aware of greyhounds and their treatment. The treatment of greyhounds in the racing industry in NSW must change. The current regulations allow unacceptable abuse of these beautiful dogs.

The Committee should look into and consider:

1. managing the sale and over-breeding of greyhounds - too many greyhounds are euthanised each year;
3. the conflict of interest represented by Greyhound Racing NSW's role in establishing and enforcing standards for the treatment of animals in the industry.
3. how to support the prosecution of persons found to be guilty of animal cruelty

Thank you for considering the above issues.

Sincerely,

Saxon Naulls-Johnstone
