

INQUIRY INTO SAME SEX MARRIAGE LAW IN NSW

I object to any submission that redefines marriage in any other way than between man and woman.

It has always been so since time immemorial and what right does the State Government have to change this definition.

It is not legal and it is not protecting the rights of children to have a Mother and Father. This is a fundamental right of all children.

This is what society has always been built upon.

You seem to want to pander to a minority group of less than 2% of the population just because they are vocal and want to push their own agenda.

Is this what we elected parliamentarians for? I think not. We are the majority and those whose votes you rely on and we are not being heard.

Kindly do the right thing by your voters and society itself and stop trying to rewrite the definition of marriage.

Thankyou.
