

INQUIRY INTO SAME SEX MARRIAGE LAW IN NSW

Name: Name suppressed

Date received: 15/02/2013

Partially Confidential

Dear Reader, I am tired of the continuing battle to have the definition of marriage changed. The law protects people in all kinds of relationships. So much time and money has already been spent and we have so many more pressing issues to deal with the health system, education and crime are just a few. I am a Christian and thought we lived in a country with freedom of speech but this seems to apply to everyone else but not Christians. Are we going to be like tired parents who give in to a noisy, demanding child who only has their own interest in mind? I hope not. Please let's focus on some real issues.
