INQUIRY INTO HOME SCHOOLING

We started our homeschooling journey just over a year ago after my daughter completed one term of prep. We found the school hours too long and the impact on our family relationships too great. We have really enjoyed our home school journey so far. My girls are free to learn what they are interested in when they are interested in it. We socialise up a storm with other families and they attend many different activities - Drama, Joey Scouts, Japanese, Art class, Piano lessons and Gymnastics are just a few we have tried this year. We have found homeschooling to be of tremendous benefit to our family.
