Electricity Privatisation...I believe that the sell off of the NSW power assets is a insult to the tax payers, retired workers, general public and most of all our children/future generations of the people of NSW...The National party used false advertising in their campaign leading up the the election which led voters to believe untrue facts in relation to the privatisation. Eg- In the radio adds aired, they had a lady speaker saying "The Nationals are not going to back the sale of the country poles and wires"...The truth is, that there is a Transgrid substation within nearly every major regional town which supply high voltage power to their customers who then supply it to the people of NSW..The public (owners of power assets), deserve to know these facts before voting for the sell off.
