To me marriage is about committing to spend your life with the person you love. It doesn't matter what gender that person is love is love. All humans should have the right to choose to marry. I think if people spent less time worrying about trivial things like gay's getting married ruining the sanctity of marriage in some god only knows way, the divorce rate might be a little lower. It's ridiculous to use the bible as an excuse, the bible is full of things we shouldn't do yet most people do them, you can't pick and choose the ones that suit you. People are entitled to their opinion but it's not fair to impact others lives with that opinion. Marriage equality for all.
