To whom it may concern

Gizmo:- Came to me to be rehomed after a head injury and cracked skull. He ran into the post at the end of the run.

Mia:- Came to me as a foster. Finished her racing career, whelped for a number of years. Not able to walk in a straight line, could not jump, had to be carried up stairs, very timid, anorexic with little hair on her hind legs. It took us about 3 months until she didn't trip when walking. She did not want to leave my side for the whole time she was with us. By the time she left us to her new home, she was able to walk and was a little more independent.

Please these dogs don't deserve to be treated this way.
