THE TRANSPORT NEEDS OF SYDNEY'S NORTH-WEST SECTOR

Name: Mr Edward Johnston

Date received: 3/10/2008

We are a retired couple who recently moved from Cherrybrook to the Kellyville/Rouse Hill area on the assumption that improved public transport, including a rail link to the city as guaranteed recently by the NSW Government, would actually be provided.

The area is a great place to live and the bus T-Way between Rouse Hill and the city has proved to be very convenient as we do not travel during peak times. However, peak hour capacity and frequency seems to need improvement.

We feel that if a rail link of some description to Rouse Hill does not go ahead the "New Rouse Hill" development area will stagnate and traffic/transport problems will discourage young people as well as older people like us from coming to the area.
