Please note my protest at the NSW governments decision to open an investigation into the terms of marriage.

By definition marriage is a Biblical concept talking of the commitment of one man and one woman to each other for the duration of their lives. It is a sacred union for the procreation and nurturing of children and the meeting of all sexual needs. Other unions can be called something different, to recognise that they are different. But marriage should maintain these basic points: 1 man, 1 woman for life.

I am very alarmed to hear that the NSW government is even investigating a change to the terms of marriage, when the Federal government has already visited this question and rejected it. It is a waste of time and money that can be put to better use: public hospitals, public roads, child safety.
