

INQUIRY INTO GREYHOUND RACING IN NSW

To Whom It May Concern,

While the greyhound racing industry continues to treat greyhounds as inanimate, disposable objects it must be shut down. Greyhounds are alive. Killing them when they are perfectly healthy constitutes animal cruelty doesn't it? The only feasible solution to keep the industry running is to make owners accountable for the life and welfare of each and every greyhound they have when the dog retires from racing. Having a retired greyhound myself as a pet I can vouch for their suitability.
