THE TRANSPORT NEEDS OF SYDNEY'S NORTH-WEST SECTOR

Dear madam/Sir,

it does not take a brilliant mind to figure out that the Northwest Region needs and deserves the planned and long time promised Northwest Railway Line or Metro urgently. This is not a matter for politics but just a basic necessity to travel into the city without clogging up our inadequate road system. Our region is one of the fastest growth areas in the whole of Australia and we need a sustainable mass transport system able to carry large numbers of commuters. Lets stop talking and finally start building the long overdue Railway/Metro line as a matter of highest priority. A project like that costs a lot of money but the longer it is being put off the more expensive it gets! Residents in the NorthWest travelling into the city deserve a decent trip into town without wasting time, money and creating extra pollution.
