INQUIRY INTO PERFORMANCE OF THE NSW
ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION AUTHORITY

Name: Ms Lisa Newling

Date received: 28/08/2014

Dear Sir/Madam,

New South Wales needs a strong, courageous and independent Environment Protection Authority that puts the interests of the community and natural environment first.

The EPA needs to be adequately resourced so that it can effectively meet its objectives and enforce compliance with conditions of licence or approval, defend regulatory policies and actions through law when required, and prosecute offenders.

Increased growth and industrial development are placing enormous pressure on the air we breathe, the water we drink and the ecosystems which support our well-being and survival.

The EPA has an important role to play in protecting, restoring and enhancing the quality of the environment in New South Wales. However a number of recent incidents highlight the EPA's failure to regulate or prosecute polluters and stop environmental breaches. Following these incidents there is strong public perception that the EPA has been captured by industry, and is not, or is not capable of, acting in the public interest.

We look to this inquiry to address the specific concerns raised by the community and to make recommendations to ensure that the EPA is capable of putting the environment and healthy communities ahead of polluters. The environment needs to be a societal concern far beyond politics. A strong EPA in NSW is the only way to ensure a future for our state and our society. There is no healthy economy without a healthy and sustainable environment.

Yours sincerely,
Lisa Newling
