Private Prisons anywhere in the world have a high rate of assault on staff and among inmates. To make profit, private companies overcrowd cells and limit staff presence. In emergencies, which arise almost everyday few officers are present to deal with. Officers have no accountability and do not have a secure job in private so corruption is common. Private prison companies do not report mishappenings or accidents to the government and keep it secret except when they mismanage the funds or seek compensation from the government before going bankrupt themselves. No rehabilitation program is carried out and inmates take undue advantage of private prison contractors. Also the citizens of any country pay taxes so that the GOVERNMENT CAN RUN SERVICES LIKE DEFENCE, POLICE, TAXATION, PRISONS, HEALTH, EDUCATION, EXTERNAL AFFAIRS and ROADS which are the necessities of a healthy public life and are not private or have unsuccessfully become private and then returned back to public service in any part of the world.
