Re Same Sex Marriage

Don't let it happen!!!!

Within my short lifetime (less than 50 years), homosexuality has changed from a physiologically treated issue to now being forced upon all sections of the community, like it or not.

Over that same time, marriage has remained as it was originally intended, a joining of male and female in a legally binding relationship. This sanctity should be preserved. It should not be changed not now and not every to include a homosexual relationship. Marriage should remain as it is currently defined in a timeless state of permanence.

While death and taxes are certainties in life, the definition of marriage being between a man and a women should also be a certainty.
