Dear Director,

In Australia, I thought that we were a modern and civilised country. But clearly, from the way these poor animals are treated, it's obvious there is a lot of improvements to make to the laws in this country regarding animal cruelty. Anyone can see that this industry is WRONG and causes careless destruction of precious lives all in the meaning of cash. It's wrong, as is the fact that so few people ever mention it. The greyhound races AS WELL AS HORSE RACING are cruel, evil. They represent such greed. It is a national embarrassment. We can call other countries overseas as being cruel to cattle and criticize the third world for cock fighting but this is an ULTIMATE hypocrisy. I insist that this matter be looked into and the perpetrators that hurt these animals is severely punished

Sincerely,

Cindy El Sayed
