Dear Director,

To whom it may concern,

I am writing in regards to my concerns for greyhound races.

I have been made aware of the barbaric cruelty that has been inflicted upon greyhounds and I feel that the current regulations for these wonderful dogs is completely unacceptable.

Greyhound dogs need much better management in terms of sale and over-breeding as well as monitoring the cruelty that is involved with the industry. It is not monitored enough, and too many of these poor creatures are being killed because of overbreeding.

I encourage you to please consider these options, and other more humane options, as no greyhound deserve this type of treatment.

Sincerely,

Valentina Priante
