

INQUIRY INTO SAME SEX MARRIAGE LAW IN NSW

Name: Dr Henry Crancik

Date received: 15/02/2013

Marriage is between a man a woman. Marriage cannot be re-defined to suit same sex couples. If marriage is re-defined then where it will finished? It all started by decriminalizing homosexuality and and that time it seemed to be the end of the story. No, it was not, now homosexuals demand more and more of so called rights and it will never be the end. Society is based on family which consists of wife, husband and children. What family can homosexuals have? None. It is the destruction of society. Somebody could wake up and put the definitive end of this rather weird redefinition. What are these homosexuals doing for the society as the whole? They think only of themselves. There are good news for them, homosexuality is a mental illness and it is curable.
