To give multi million dollar companies free reign over our land without any concern for maintaining the quality of our drought threatened and crucial Australian natural water supply is madness. Sustainable energy is the only option for the human race. You must not let these companies take control if you do you they will never relinquish it. In America the multi-million dollar business of fracking has contaminated the water supply, the corporate giants there are now in cover-up mode with a weak government hiding from responsibility. Make Australians proud. We did not vote you into power to sell us out. We are the people and we are the land. Look after the land and the seas and the air and the water if you want to look after us. Look after us and we will continue to vote for you if you don't we will all have no choice but to vote green. Learn from the mistakes already made. Make us proud.
