As a young lesbian marriage is not in my immediate future, but it is painful to even consider that same sex couples who have been together for many years do not have the same opportunities as opposite sex couples.

To be frank it reminds me of such things as women not having the vote and slavery, things that now, looking back on seems strange that it wasn't always so.

It is incredibly wrong to not allow someone to make a decision that will affect them, not the people around them!

so YES to equality!
