INQUIRY INTO ELECTORAL AND POLITICAL PARTY FUNDING

I am totally opposed to large political donations and want a small limit for donations put in place.

A suitable amount is $1000 for all, whether corporate or personal. This can be cpi indexed to remove the need for any reviews. A system [maybe involving stat declarations of employment] should be in place to prevent donations by third parties - eg corporations via their employees etc. Large fines and/or dismissal from office should be a penalty for infringing this.

I am opposed to any increase in public funding as it only favours the larger groups.

I want to see pledges, not "promises". A pledge is a commitment.

We should have a system like California where the Citizens can move to call an election.
