THE MANAGEMENT AND OPERATIONS OF THE NSW AMBULANCE SERVICE

Name: Mr Harry Callaghan

Date received: 18/06/2008

---

I was a Patient Transport Officer with the Ambulance Service of NSW. I was forced to resign because of untrue allegations of bullying in the workplace. I resigned on 2nd of May 2008, and I am not very happy. This was a job I loved and I wish I was still doing it. A female PTO had personnel problems at home and use to come into work and complain about everyone she worked with. One day she complained about me to a District Officer who did not like me because I always refuse to do overtime, because of personnel and family responsibilities. He saw this complaint as a way of getting back at me. The complaint went all the way and I was transferred to Summer Hill, I told them this was not possible as I had to take my daughter to school in the mornings and look after her in the evenings. They said to me tuff resign then. I have heaps of letters and statements that I would love to submit. Get back to me if you are interested, because no one else has been, even the union.
