Same sex marriage? It is impossible. Marriage, throughout history has primarily been not only to bind together a man and a woman bringing children into the world, but for the obvious purpose of procreation. It was ordained by Almighty God at the beginning of the history of mankind and to alter it in any way will absolutely bring about dire consequences. My greatest fear, as a school teacher of 46 years, is the repercussions that same sex marriages would have if those couples were able to bring children into their relationships.
