I support the marriage in its natural way-that is between a man and a woman. i am enjoying such a relationship and fully aware how important it is for kids to be brought up in their own biological families. Of course i agree there are instances where parents die or divorce; but then also they understand and recognize who their Mum or Dad is in almost all cases. Here children are enjoying their natural birth rights. When same sex marriage happens- kids will lose their birth right-that is to know who is their Mum or Dad in the first place and to get chance to live with their own biological parents. The natural way is designed in such a way that they can have the opportunity to know a female and a male. male and female are different in many ways and kids are getting their soft corner from Mum and confidence and other strengths from their Dad. In exceptional cases it may not happen, but they can get to know this from their grandparents or cousins; they are not exposed to the selfish motive-pleasure only relationship coming out of same sex marriage. It is really difficult to bring up our own blood-children, and how can people bring up someone else's kids-adoption is going on , i know that, but how much-only a small percent. Redefining marriage and giving permission to marry same sex means giving permission to a whole community to live selfish way and exposing the vulnerable young kids to worst side of men's life-pleasure oriented selfish life!.

This will lead to a bad community. if society deteriorates, no Govt can do anything to bring it back to normal. if all go for same sex marriage-then where is the future generation!. once the same sex marriage becomes legalized, it can become popular and many will go for it and that will be the worst ever could happen to a society. so please never give permission to same sex marriage life. Think about the child's embarrassment at school, where all parents r coming for school meeting, and his or her/ same sex "so called parents' are attending..how he or she would deal with that...who will answer the innocent question, where i came from, or who am i?. don't kill innocence Please!!!!do not give same sex marriage any sort of permission!. if they want to live like that, it is their problem-face the consequences, that is it!.
