Dear Hon Reverend Fred Nile MLC

I am making a submission on the reason the Electricity industry should not be sold off.

We are entering a new era. Cars have been around in mass for about 60 years. The Oil supply is being stretched and world demand will soon see countries without oil. I guess around that time or before the United Nations will have to quarantine oil production for countries to have an oil supply to govern the countries. That time is not that far away. Governments have to consider the long term life on planet earth, and the taking care of populations. This time in the history of the world will mean a change in lifestyle. Steps have to be taken before Oil runs out or the world will erupt in war and bitterness.

I put it to you the long term government of energy is essential. China and other countries are buying stakes in Australian energy reserves for they know for the well being of their population's control, of energy is essential. Other countries are looking well down the future in securing rights to energy supplies.

Australia needs to consider the caring of the population in terms of providing affordable energy for the people who become unemployed as oil runs out, the people who cannot earn a living need be cared for. When oil runs out economics of the country change, with that there will be a great need to supply the population with the means of cooking, cleaning, and surviving with no money for the tax dollars will dry up due to high unemployment. For the Government to be charitable to its needy population, it needs to control power and water.

I further add that I have made a submission the Chair and two Board members of the Advisory Board for The Centre for Brain and Mental Health Research at The University of Newcastle. My point is it can be proven unseen intelligence can inspire thoughts in people. If my point of view is examined there will be the thought of the probability of a God existing that can be proven, which in turn will affect life on planet earth. If the people involved find that the unseen can be proven to exist then some concepts of the Christian faith about sharing with others will become a focal point of future life on earth, which will change to concept of capitalism, and that will change the profit motive of businesses, and encourage a bit of a concept of communism like the early church, and systems like that have to be governed by the state.

Government ownership of power and water is essential for the world we are coming into for much will change, due to oil being quarantined and the proof that a God does exist.

Regards
Agner Sorensen
