I am writing today supporting the present National Parks and future purchases of environmentally important land for future National Parks.

National Parks provide so much enjoyment from space for kids to run around to rare and endangered species that are protected in the National Parks system.

With a growing population and massive development across most of our State . The National Parks are sometimes the only place to see rare plant and animal communities.

The large land purchases that are required to make a National Park and which give Tourists the opportunity to see 150 species of birds on Yanga Station are vital for the protection of these species .
