Changing the definition of marriage would change the institution of marriage itself. It would completely turn the idea of 'family' on its head.

Marriage, between one man and one woman, is an important institution in our society. It provides the most stable environment for children. As a society we ought to do all we can to ensure we nurture the next generation.

Having been married (to the same man) for 51 years with 8 children and 16 grandchildren I can vouch for the sanctity and stable environment only a marriage can bring.
